Thank you to everyone who has helped prepare the church for Easter this year – to the team who came and cleaned, arranged flowers, put everything back in place including the furniture, and for all those working behind the scenes, often late, the singers, churchwardens, Vladimir on the organ, Ian for his admin, the bellringers, and all of you have come to the liturgies. The church looks wonderful and resounds with Easter joy! Thanks also to Fr Luke Miller, Archdeacon of London, for being with us this week, preaching and presiding so beautifully. He has enriched us all with his words and his presence.

For my first Holy Week & Easter with you, I could not have asked for more – and especially as we begin the interregnum and journey through the Easter season together. My prayers and blessings for you all.

Fr Simon Walsh
